FLORES ISLAND AGAIN!

Telegrams from Montevideo announce that a plague of dysentery has seized all the unfortunate passengers under quarantine at Flores Island, the cause of which is supposed to be water of an infected character, combined with bad provisions.

Language fails us, to condemn with sufficient severity the cruel treatment to which hundreds of fellow-beings are subjected in the Lazzaretto at the mouth of the River Plate. Year after year we have to record the most shocking revelations about Flores Island, but the abuse goes on without any effective remedy.

If we are not mistaken the Argentine Government is partly responsible, and as it is useless to expect any reform from the authorities at Montevideo we feel bound to urge Pres. Pellegrini to take steps in the matter. Let His Excellency give up all connection with Flores Island, and establish a proper Lazzaretto at the mouth of the Santa Cruz river. It would be necessary for the Government to purchase two or three steamers for the conveyance of passengers and food. A good hotel, with accommodation for 600 or 700 persons, horses, baths, billiards etc. would enable the persons in quarantine to pass their time pleasantly, the banks of the Santa Cruz affording various kinds of game for shooting parties, besides fishing and other amusements.

The idea of ill-treating persons in quarantine is repugnant to every sentiment of justice and humanity. On the contrary we should labor to make their period of detention as agreeable as possible. In this respect the King of Portugal sets a good example to all nations, for it is admitted that the Lazzaretto on the south bank of the Tagus is a charming place, where the inmates are treated with respectful attention.

Why should passengers be put on a footing almost with criminals? Why should delicate ladies and children be denied not merely the luxuries but often the necessaries of life? Why should water for drinking be so pestilential as to sow disease and death?

We have written so often on this painful subject in the last twenty years that the statesmen and high officials of Buenos Ayres cannot plead ignorance of the inhumanity which we condemn. Look at Martin Garcia or Flores Island, the names of which are so terrible that they make one's blood run cold. We could heartily wish to wipe the names off the map of the River Plate.

COMMERCE OF URUGUAY.

The official returns are in dollars worth 51 pence English, and shew as follows:—

| | Imports, $ | Exports, $ |
|---|---|---|
| 1888 | 29,500,000 | 28,000,000 |
| 1889 | 33,800,000 | 25,900,000 |
| 1890 | 32,400,000 | 29,100,000 |
| 1891 | 18,900,000 | 26,900,000 |

Here we see that in 1891 the imports were 40 per cent below the average for the three preceding years, and that the exports were about 4 per cent less. The effects of the existing crisis are more visible in the imports than in the exports, as always happens.

If we compare the trade and population of Uruguay with those of Argentina we cannot fail to be struck by the fact that the former has a much greater commerce per inhabitant than the latter. We may premise that Argentina is estimated to have a population of 3,660,000, and Uruguay 730,000, according to latest statements.

| | Imports. | Exports. |
| | £ stg. | £ stg. |
| Argentina | 13,300,000 | 19,200,000 |
| Uruguay | 3,800,000 | 5,400,000 |

We find here an average as follows:—

| | Imports. | Exports. |
|---|---|---|
| | £ stg. | £ stg. |
| Argentina..... | 3·7 | 5·3 |
| Uruguay..... | 5·2 | 7·4 |

Thus the total trade in Argentina is just £9 per head, whereas in Uruguay it is nearly £13. The above figures, of course, are the Government valuation, which is notoriously exaggerated in Argentina, and probably likewise in Uruguay.

FROM ENGLAND TO CHILE.

VIA BUENOS AYRES IN 23 DAYS.

Having traversed the line of the Transandine Railway from Buenos Ayres to Valparaiso, via Uspallata, over a year ago, and returning again to Argentina by the same route, and as the public in general have but little idea of the magnitude of this mountainous railway, I venture to give some brief notes upon it of interest to travellers and tourists to Chile.

The works of the Transandine Railway were commenced in 1886, but as the cholera broke out in the province of Mendoza this greatly hindered the work in hand, which later on was in some parts washed away by an inundation; subsequently the company proceeded energetically with the reconstruction, at the same time making improvements for security of the line and for prevention of accidents in such a manner that it is considered one of the most solidly built railways in the Republic.

The company has imported 600 tons of dynamite for blasting purposes to make the necessary tunnels. Also four bridges have had to be erected, which are of steel, measuring 250 feet.

At present there are only 350 workmen employed in laying the line, which has reached as far as Rio Blanco (kilometre 121,) up to which distance the locomotive can run, or say two thirds of the total distance on the Argentine side

The Chilian side of the railway has been completed some time, that is to say from Santa Rosa de los Andes to Juncal, and now they are at the hardest part of all, La Cumbre, at which stage it needs a tunnel to get through the great obstacle.

It is worthy of note that since this line was opened for traffic last February not one accident has yet occurred, which speaks well for the permanent way that has for the most part a stone or rock basis, thus giving all possible safety for the transporting of trains.

The traffic receipts during winter are said to have covered the working-expenses, more than some other railways have done, and now that summer is on the passenger traffic is increasing.

During the summer months (from November till the end of May) the average number of persons passing through here for Chile in a day used to be 25.

Some of the steamship companies in Buenos Ayres have thought about issuing tickets in Europe direct for Chile via Buenos Ayres, Mendoza and Los Andes. Mr. Henry L. Green, agent for the Royal Mail Steamship Company, has already taken the necessary plans etc. to London to interview the Company on the project, which if carried out, the journey from England, France or Italy to the Pacific Coast can be reduced to 23 days in the following manner: From Europe to Buenos Ayres or vice-versa. 20 days; from Buenos Ayres to Mendoza, 36 hours; to Rio Blanco 7 hours, to Punta de Vacas 3 hours, to Juncal (Chile) 8 hours, to Guardia Vieja 2 hours, to Santiago or Valparaiso 8 hours; total 64 hours from Buenos Ayres, or less than 3 days. Passengers from Chile to Europe or vice-versa through the straits of Magellan must endure 37 days on board, the average time employed by the Pacific steamers plying between Valparaiso and Liverpool.

Two weeks in time and some 5 to 10 pounds less in the expenses incurred by the former route compared to the latter is something worth the attention of travellers bound to Chile to keep in mind.

They need not fear that they will be deprived of scenery (if that be their object), for on the Chilian side it is unique; the Argentine side is barren almost and there is nothing of interest to the eye of the traveller, who would do well to make a short stop at the foot of the Andes on passing through, should his health be a bit "seedy." Mendoza has saved many a man and woman from going to his or her last home.

Now I am speaking about this Andine city, the following lines which are taken from a newspaper of Buenos Ayres will be interesting:—"It is an undoubted fact that the climate of Mendoza exercises a marvellously beneficial action on weak or diseased lungs, and we could mention the names of persons whose lives were refused by Insurance Offices and upon whom the sentence of death was passed by the doctors, but who, by a residence among the mountains of Mendoza, have become strong and healthy. .....The pure and dry air is the fame of Mendoza and is spreading far and wide, for we noticed in a letter from London, published in La Nacion a few days ago, a statement that an Argentine, a friend of the writer's, who was suffering from lung disease and who went to consult Dr. Morell Mackenzie, was told by that eminent physician that his best chance of life lay in returning to his own country and residing in Mendoza." Your correspondent begs to confirm the above, for after having left England for Buenos Ayres, where he has resided for over 3 years, and making a short residence in both the neighbouring republics—Uruguay and Chile—and for over 12 months at the foot of the Andes, he cannot help saying the climate is the best; and for a city of pure air, where dampness is unknown, you could seek no better on the whole of the South American Continent.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

Feb. 13th.

The conspiracy recently discovered has been knocked off its perch as the topic of the hour. The country is quiet. The Tacuarembo bandits have been dispersed by the police.

General Fortunato Flores was arrested yesterday in consequence of a letter he wrote to one of the evening papers explaining the incident between him and the President of the Republic.

The failure of the Obras Company is beginning to give rise to complications.

Alarming telegrams were again received yesterday from Rio Grande, where affairs are in a very unsettled condition. No details are given.

The M.V. News supplies the following account of the Pocitos fire:—

About four o'clock on Thursday morning a violent fire broke out in the well-known Bathing Hotel at Pocitos, resulting in the total destruction of the Hotel, the terrace and band-stand in front, part of the pier and of the bridge leading to the ladies' baths, the ticket-office and clothes-store and the first row of boxes of the men's baths. The adjoining house to the hotel, occupied by the family of Sr. Vidal was also considerably damage. The Hotel and adjuncts being nearly entirely of wood, and having been dried by the intense heat of recent days, the flames spread with terrific rapidity, being augmented by the high wind that was blowing. When the alarm was given, the inmates, mostly servants and waiters, had to escape in their sleeping apparel. The efforts of the neighbours to stem the fire with sea-water and sand were quite hopeless. The fire-brigade was summoned by telephone, but owing to the distance it was nearly three-quarters of an hour before they arrived, when the fire already had complete possession of the place, and their efforts were confined to prevent it spreading further, which they did with success. There remains nothing now of this popular resort but a heap of ashes. The losses are estimated at $8000 to $10,000. The Hotel was insured in the Alliance Company for $3,000. It will be remembered that it is only a few weeks since the Pocitos Tramway Company, owners of the buildings concerned, suffered severe losses by the storms, when a great portion of the building was rebuilt and enlarged.

In addition to the loss of the buildings, the manager of the restaurant has lost some $3,000 in gold and notes, in the till; and a French gentleman living in the house of Sr. Vidal has lost $3,000 in shares of the Cuñapirú mines and other valuable documents.

We understand that, notwithstanding the fire, the ladies' and men's baths will be open as usual to-day, and the electric light service will be restored this evening.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

There was no telegraphic news received from Mendoza yesterday. We suppose nothing important has occurred within the last 24 hours, although they are on the eve of their elections there. We note by an exchange that some enterprising person is making out a full report on the finances of Mendoza, no doubt with the charitable view of enabling the new Governor to obtain a clear insight into the resources, losses and prospects of the province. Mendoza, like her sister-provinces, is in a desperately bad financial condition. We trust the new Governor will go the right way about mending the provincial finances. Experience shews that there are two ways of placing either derailed finances or a derailed tram-car on the track. One is to whip the horses, yell lustily, cling to the seats like grim death, and rush madly over the ground, trusting to luck to get on the track again. This plan sometimes succeeds with tramways but very rarely indeed with finances. The other method is the right one. It consists in making the passengers alight, every man put his shoulder to the coach, and lift it on to the rails again. There's some trouble about it no doubt. People have to get down in all the sun and help the driver. But it is the only plan after all, and we call the attention of the Mendocinos, the Valientes Puntanos, and in fact all the provincianos to the advisability of putting it in practice as soon as possible. "Hic labor."

Telegrams from Cordoba report another fright caused by a group of men parading the streets and crying—Muera Juarez. Cheers were indulged in for General Roca, lookers-on joining in the cry. Everything goes to shew that Cordoba is now in a high state of political excitement, and that popular feeling is bursting through all restraints. Dr. Oscas Guinazu is at present in Cordoba. This is the ex-governor of Mendoza, the same gentleman whom we mentioned as having been summoned for charges of bribery and embezzlement. Why he should be in Cordoba and not in Mendoza it is difficult to make out, unless it be that he feels safer in Cordoba. The ex-governor is, by the way, senator elect for Mendoza, but the Senate here cannot accept his credentials until he clear himself of the charges laid at his door.

Our Rosario exchanges state that the mysterious crime on an island in front of the city is a myth, a wild "canard," which only the Rosario police could swallow. Who started the "duck" is not known. If the Rosario police could only be made to display with real criminals the same zeal and energy they have shewn in pursuing imaginary ones, Rosario would be the safest city in the country to live in.

The only news from Santa Fe is that the President of the Langosticide Committee is drawing up his report. We hope it will be short and to the point. As a rule the smaller the importance of any body of men, the longer the report of the chairman.

SANTOS AND RIO JANEYRO.

THE PLAGE-SPOTS OF BRAZIL.

The epidemic of fever in Santos has at last reached so acute a stage that several lines of steamers have stopped receiving cargo for that port and some of the most influential foreign houses of the city are closing their doors. In some cases there is really no one left to carry on business, the well being obliged to devote their attention to the sick. The situation is desperate to an extreme, and the only recourse, so far as we can see, is to be found in the complete closing of the port to foreign commerce. It was long ago almost a foregone conclusion that this would be the result, and now, when its realization is at hand, the local authorities of Santos and the state authorities of Sao Paulo, must admit the conclusion that they have only themselves to blame for the disaster. Months ago we called attention to the situation and to the dangers which were threatening them. The enormous accumulation of merchandise in that port, the blocking of the streets and railway, the lack of facilities for unloading and storing merchandise, the apathy and indifference of officials and everyone else connected with the service of discharging, storing and transporting merchandise all this could have but one end. An extraordinary accumulation of vessels followed, and in the midst of all these a port improvements contractor went on dredging up the accumulated filth of years from the river bottom to deposit it along the banks. In the best and coolest of seasons this would have resulted in sickness in the shipping, but when we add to this the in heat of a summer in Santos it must be seen that yellow fever was inevitable. And still, up to this moment, we have yet to hear of a single order, either from the sanitary authorities, or from those of the city or state against this terrible blunder. With a fever epidemic staring them in the face, the authorities of Santos lacked even the common sense to order a suspension of a work which was continually bringing up the poisonous deposits of the river bottom, from which fever contagion was spread broadcast among the shipping. Such people, to say the least, are totally unfit for the responsible positions which they hold. If strict justice could be meted out in this world they would be held responsible in no small measure for the terrible loss of life which is resulting from their incompetence and negligence. The calamity, however, has arrived and it only remains to limit the consequences within the narrowest bounds. To that end all foreign steamship companies should, immediately suspend calling at Santos—for the impossibility of discharging cargoes quickly renders such calls most dangerous—and every foreign house which can do so, should close its doors. Let the government then do what it will. If it can not bring itself to the point of constructing temporary piers, enlarging and improving the custom-house, increasing facilities for transporting merchandise to the interior and of thoroughly cleansing and draining the city, then let the port of Santos be abandoned. There is no use in wasting human life in such a place. The port of Santos or some other port, is a necessity for the state of Sao Paolo; the people of that state must therefore see to it that it is made habitable.

What we have said in respect to the port of Santos is in great measure true also of Rio de Janeiro. The same apathy and incompetence are to be found here which have brought about so much trouble down there. The port and custom-house are crowded, the Central railway is continually blocked, and the city was never dirtier since the days when the streets were made the common receptacle for every species of filth. Add to this a much diminished supply of water—now happily augmented by welcome rains—and we have a situation full of danger to the health of the city. That these conditions have been producing their natural results during the recent hot weather may be seen in the rapidly increasing death rate from yellow fever. We have now reached a death rate of over 30 a day, which may be considered an epidemic rate. This number, it should be noted, does not include the cases from the shipping which are sent over to Jurujuba and do not enter into the mortality reports of the city. The shipping is beginning to suffer severely, and unless something is done at once, Rio may soon find herself in a position little better than that of Santos. There is now no time for idle talk, nor for the execution of pretentious schemes. Providence has once more come to the relief of incapacity by sending a heavy rain to wash out Rio's filthy streets and rain-water sewers, but it will be very unwise to depend on a repetition of the favor Provision should be taken at once to keep the streets clean, to provide for a better distribution of water, and then, what is equally important, to provide against the sale of unwholesome food and drink. Food is dear and often bad, and this in itself is a source of illness during the hot season. Then, too, the city if not the whole country, is actually flooded with poisonous artificial drinks. There is hardly a popular drink in the market, whether spirits, wine or mineral water, that is not counterfeited, and there is hardly a hotel or restaurant that is not knowingly selling them. When the best-known restaurants of the city have the effrontery to admit keeping these artificial drinks, then it is quite time for the authorities to stop the shameful business in the interests of public health. There are but few places where the manufacture of falsified drinks is so openly carried on, and for the credit of the country it is full time that something were done to check it. Good and wholesome food and drink are just as essential for public health as pure air. Epidemics generally originate in filth and bad food—in unsanitary conditions and living; and it is essential therefore that they should be opposed by improving the conditions from which they have their origin.—Rio News.

LETTERS FROM PATAGONIA.

XIV.

Indians and hunters aver that in the valleys of the Andes real wild horses live in great "manadas", but they are seldom met with at a distance from the Cordillera. They never abandon their haunts, whatever the season of the year, which fact goes some way to show that the winter is not so very severe in these mountains as one would naturally suppose it to be. Wild cattle and a kind of deer, the "cervus campestris", are likewise to be found at the foot of the Andes.

This afternoon I lag behind the caravan to gather some flowers and to wait for the lancha, in order to see how she is getting along. The evening, then the night, come before I catch up my companions. I ride on, straining my eyes and sometimes imagining I make out dark figures moving ahead in the plain, but they are only "matas negras", whose fantastic shapes loom strangely in the dark. Once my horse stops short and shudders a little. It is a lion, but not a very dangerous one, for he is dead, so dead indeed that his skin is not worth taking off, infested as it is and partially eaten by beetles, somewhat resembling the "Silphae" of Europe and their "larvae".

Mata negra succeeds to mata negra. Inanino, though tired, keeps up his weird and silent canter on the sandy pampa. There is no danger of being lost; I know the river is somewhere on my right hand, and I could hardly miss it; but the solitude is none the less impressive.

At last, very late in the night, I sight something in the distance, like a red star twinkling luridly on the far-stretching plain. It is a fire lit by the Doctor and Teniente in a dismal-looking camping ground; but a better could not be got. A few rachitic bushes crop out of the sand and give but an insignificant shelter against the biting gale. We roll ourselves up in our "quillangos", like silk worms, and sleep as comfortably as we can.

We linger three days in our encampment, for the Chief has gone back to better quarters, and we have to wait for him and the 'lancha.' The river is rapid up here, and there are many boulders hidden beneath the water.

The wind keeps up its roaring and cold blasts, sending the prickly sand in our eyes and faces. Each of us sits huddled in his blankets on the lee side of a bush, for the bushes are too small to afford shelter for more than one man at once, each with his own particular fire before him.

We are out of tobacco. This is a terrible misfortune in the desert, the thought of which is enough to pale the cheeck of the most bronzed traveller. The doctor finds half a cigarette thrown away by the Chief, and shares it with me. We smoke it in our pipes, mixed with dried calafate leaves and calafate bark. It is not up to Will's "smoking mixture."

We live exclusively on 'churrasco,' having no pots nor pans with us. I never understood till now how much Robinson Crusoe must have longed to manufacture a pot, and how he must have rejoiced when, after many failures, he at last was able to make some soup unto himself.

We have no tea, nor coffee, and I begin to regret having ever spoken with depreciation of the virtues of "mate," for I should be glad enough to have some now.

I have lost my eyeglass, another heavy misfortune, and the worst of it is that I know where I have lost it and can't find it. From time to time I go and walk on all fours on the sand, like a modern Megatherium, but in vain, I require another eyeglass to look for it, otherwise I shall never see it again.

This does not hinder me from admiring the Andes, which tower higher and higher in the sky, their black precipices contrasting with the whiteness of their snow-mantle. They are extremely picturesque and bold, fully as much so as the Alps.

Thus pass the three days, till, on the morning of the fourth one, we hear the whistling of the "lancha."

We give ourselves up to the enjoyment of tobacco, boiled guanaco and tea without sugar. We make an end of our ship biscuit.

Old and musty ship biscuit is not an attractive food, still, we appreciate it. It is not everyone who can cook "galleta," I can, and I am proud of it: The best way, to my mind, is to dip it in water—hot water is better than cold for this operation—till it is saturated, then to lay it over a thick bed of glowing embers, till it is charred on one side, then to repeat the operation on the other side. You scrape off the charcoal, and find the interior soft, the steam having partially evaporated, but some having been kept in by the carbonisation of the exterior.

We have long ago passed the point where Fitzroy stopped, and are stepping on "terra incognita," or at least on land of which no reliable map exists.

ARGENTINE G. WESTERN RAILWAY.

The annual general meeting of shareholders in this company was held at Winchester House, Old Broad Street, on Dec. 16, Sir George Russell, M.P., in the chair.

The Chairman: Gentlemen, I presume you will take the report as read, and assuming that that will be your desire, I will proceed to make such remarks to you as occur to me, but you will notice that the report in itself is so full and exhaustive, and so fully and completely lays before you the whole facts of the case as covering the year under review, that it is practically needless for me to offer any remarks in extension of that report. You may remember, such of you as were present here last year, that I then enumerated the difficulties with which your board had to contend from the moment that they had taken over the working of the line. They had in the first place to put the line itself into proper and efficient working order. They had, in the next place, at a very large outlay of capital, which was raised for the purpose, thoroughly to equip the line with locomotives and rolling stock. They had to provide that which was essential to the economical and efficient working of the line—good and pure water: and they had also to see whether they could not effect economy in the consumption of fuel, because the line being at a great distance from the seaboard, the bringing up of coal was necessarily an immense expense, and wood was not found to be satisfactory or obtainable in regular and in sufficiently large quantities. Now the whole of these difficulties the board have, with infinite labour and with infinite pains, overcome. You have got a line in admirable and efficient working order; you have got abundant equipment both in locomotives and in rolling stock; you have a service now which is regular and punctual and satisfactory in every respect; you have, partly through the means of supply, and partly through the means of purifiers a good supply of water, so that we have no longer any complaint of incrustation of boilers and other difficulties arising from the use of impure water. All these things have been effected, and satisfactorily effected, by your board. There was one other great and paramount difficulty with which they had to contend—a difficulty which had not been adjusted when I last had the pleasure of meeting you, and that was fixing of a tariff which should be, if not all that we could desire, at all events somewhat more fair and reasonable than the tariff under which we had been working. After infinite delays and infinite negotiation, we at last succeeded in obtaining through agreement with the Government, a tariff which, if not all that we could desire, at all events was one which would enable us to work your line without loss, and I should have thought that such a tariff as that we might fairly look to maintain. But here again we have met with difficulty, but I am gratified to be able to state that at last we have arrived at an arrangement with the Government, which, if not all that we can desire, at all events, under the circumstances, was the best arrangment we could make. Now, you will observe, gentlemen, that in the report we have felt it our duty very plainly and clearly, and without any circumlocution, to point out these difficulties with which we have to deal at the hands of the Government. Now your board collectively and individually have had every sympathy with the Government and with the people of the Argentine Republic in the political and financial crisis through which they have had to pass; but we have been called upon, as you know, to make very great sacrifices. You have been called upon and have agreed practically, for a time, to accept in a form of interest upon your garantee that which is in effect little more than one-half of that which you are really entitled to, because being paid your interest in funding bonds, those funding bonds are not quoted much above 50. Well, having done all that I have enumerated to you, and having submitted in the interest of the Argentine Republic and people to the loss which I have alluded to, I should have thought that we were entitled to the fullest and fairest favour which the Argentine Government could give us, because it must be borne in mind that, after all, we are in the same boat. It is just as much our interest to serve the Argentine people well as it is in the interest of the Argentine Government that they should be served well; but I think that we are entitled to say, having done all this to equip the line, and having supplied an excellent service, having submitted to great sacifices, we expect generos and fair treatment in return. I make the greatest allowance for the difficulties in which the Argentine Government are placed, but I hope and trust that we shall in future receive that fair treatment which, I think, we are entitled to. I may mention that Dr. Plaza, being in this country as the representative of the Argentine Government, has been invited to attend our board meetings. On two occasions he has attended these board meetings. We have had other interviews with him, and I think I may say that Dr. Plaza must be fully acquainted with the fact that this board has been, is and will be, anxious to meet, so far as it fairly and reasonably can do with justice to those whose interests are entrusted to it, the legitimate desires and wishes of the Argentine Government. Gentlemen, I may be wrong, and I am only expressing my own personal opinion, but so far as the political and financial position in Argentina is affecting us, I have very little personal hope that we shall see much improvement in that direction until after the next Presidential election. I can only say in the meantime, that we have as I have told you, placed our line in thoroughly good, efficient and effective working order, and that, if the premium on gold should fall, as I trust it will, and as we may reasonably anticipate, after the next Presidential election at all events, that it will fall to something like normal condition, we have every reason to hope and to believe that we have good and valuable property which will work out to your advantage. It is satisfactory for me to be able to state, that your line, passing through an agricultural and pastoral country, has to deal with that portion of the community which has suffered the least by the recent crisis, and it is additionally satisfactory to know that in one great department of industry—vine culture—the carrying of vine products by us has been over 50 per cent. in excess of that which it was in the corresponding twelve months. We, therefore, from that, may calculate and infer that however great the paralysis may be in certain commercial industries, in certain departments of agriculture at all events the country is advancing and prosperous. I may say that we have now twelve engines working with petroleum, which is conveyed to us upon our system, and that a very large economy as well as an equally efficient conduct of our locomotives is ensured and maintained by this employment of petroleum. With these remarks, I beg to move that the report and accounts be read and adopted.—Financial Times.

MR. MELTON PRIOR'S LECTURE.

Mr. Editor,

I quite agree with "One who won't be there" that the price of admission is far too high, in view of the general impoverished state of paper-salaried people, and I greatly fear that the philanthropists who have fortunately secured the free services of the distinguished artist are pursuing a blind policy of exclusiveness which will end in disappointing results to the charities it is sought to benefit. Mr. Prior has interested and instructed us by pen and pencil for many years, and we should like to see and hear him; but three dollars puts this pleasure as far from our reach as a Melton Mowbray pie! It may be argued that as the charities have a Prior claim to consideration, the higher the charge the greater the receipts will be. I reply that universal experience teaches it is "the pit that pays", and that a wide-awake money-making showman would drop the $3 to $1.50 at least.

"QUITE ENGLISH YOU KNOW."

Mr. Editor,

I presume the above heading, prefixed to the letter in your issue of yesterday from a correspondent signing himself "One who won't go," is a delicately sarcastic allusion to the composition of the writer, whose style is quite as pronounced as his good taste.

I fail to see the relevancy of his argument in regard to Mr. Prior's appreciation of the value of the paper dollar, inasmuch as this gentleman has very kindly undertaken to deliver a lecture for the benefit of the British and American Benevolent Society, and not for his own profit and emolument.

As regards the recent reduction in the price of the tickets, doubtless the committee have carefully considered the matter before deciding, but I venture to say there are many others like myself who would willingly pay an extra two dollars, when the expenditure of that amount would promote a good cause, while ensuring a reserved seat.

Yours obediently,

One who will go.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The N. Railway Board have reported favourably on the contract made by the Pacific Railway for working the Villa Maria and Rufino line. The contract is for seven years, the Pacific Railway Co. binding themselves to return the line and rolling-stock in good order. The Villa Maria and Rufino Railway Co. pay the lessees 15% of the working-expenses. This arrangement is a considerable saving to the Villa Maria Co.

The Board of the Pacific Railway have submitted to Government for approval the plans of a level crossing at kil. 764. The Lujan Municipality asked the Company to make the crossing in question.

The Santa Fé and Cordoba Great Southern have laid before Government the plans of the proposed station at Olivos.

Government yesterday annulled the decree of August last, approving the plans of the tracing of the line from Victoria on the Central Argentine to San Justo on the Western Railway. These plans must first receive the approval of the Board of Public Works.

EDITORS' TABLE.

Thermometer up and the Gold Vulture down yesterday. Politics seemed, to a good many averagely intelligent people, to be in a worse mess than ever, though others swear they are going on swimmingly; and with "economy and morality" (this is the new cure for the crisis, vice "confidence" cashiered) matters pecuniary and Presidential will soon be all right. Let us hope so.

Another policeman who was wounded at the elections last Sunday died yesterday in San Roque Hospital.

The usual concert takes place at the Tigre Hotel to-night. Express train to town when it is over.

The "English," which hangs on so lovingly to the coat-tails of this column, sent round yesterday quite a masterpiece of art in the shape of an Almanack, splendidly engraved, and representing the "English," the cruiser 25 de Mayo entering Rio, and a "gaucho" lassoing a bull. The artists have omitted to put their name on the picture, which is spity—for them.

In case the two candidates Dr. Luis Saenz Peña and Dr. Roque Saenz Peña go to the poll it will be the first occasion on record of a Presidential contest between father and son in any country. It reminds us, however, of a remarkable parliamentary election in Ireland in 1848, when the candidates for Waterford were Mr. Thomas Meagher, the Mayor of the city, and his son Thomas Francis Meagher, the well-known orator. The father was a trusty follower of O'Connell; the son a leader of the Young Ireland party, and victory resulted for the father. In the present case it may be fairly expected that Roque Saenz Peña will gracefully retire, in deference to his father.

The vital statistics of Uruguay are published for 1891, from which it appears that the death-rate was 20 per thousand of the population, against 18 in Ireland, 21 in England, 22 in Scotland, 24 in France, 27 in Germany, 30 in Italy, and only 13 in Australia. The death-rate of Montevideo last year was 24 per thousand, against 21 in London, 26 in New York, 28 in Paris and 30 in Buenos Ayres.

If the Central Argentine Railway Co. were really desirous of increasing its traffic (which seems doubtful) we would venture to suggest excursion tickets, at single fare, to Cordoba and back, including Cosquin and Alta Gracia, the two most delightful spots in the Sierras, both of which may be reached in 18 or 20 hours from our city. During Carnival, and again during the Holy Week, there would be many persons glad to make the trip, provided the above reduction of fare. We find, however, that railway-managers on this side of the Line are averse to giving the public too many facilities for pleasure-trips.

Mr. Edwin Cleary has kindly consented to postpone the performance of the "Sorcerer," announced for Tuesday night, in view of Mr. Melton Prior's lecture in aid of the British Benevolent Society.

The latest European papers to hand show that the reported probable "rapprochement" between the Quirinal and the Vatican is fire and water and pure moonshine.

The City Fathers had a holiday on Friday; as the President and his two Vices had to attend to "urgent private affairs" (probably politics); and, the cats being away, the mice were enabled to play, and did so.

Don Quijote came down yesterday on the elections of Sunday last like a million of bricks, in his two-page woodcut.

The Government issued a decree yesterday approving the conduct of the police at the elections held this day week.

Here's the very latest brilliant idea about South American politics, evolved from his inner consciousness by our cute relative Cousin Jonathan:—"The "River Plate Confederation" is believed to be among the possibilities of the near future, to include Bolivia, Uruguay, Paraguay and the Argentine—each to form, in proportion to area and population, one or more States of the new Union."

We know a lady who successfully acted on a hint we published some time ago that dirty paper money can and should be washed, just like soiled linen. She washed a lot of shinplasters and made them look like new. On this subject of dirty rag money our contemporary Paper Trade says:—"Dr. L. B. Clifton, the Macon scientist, has detected a peculiar parasite which infects our paper money. It is found nowhere else, and though it is invisible to the unassisted eye, the small creature multiplies at a surprising rate and is very numerous. Dr. Clifton counted 8,000 of them on an old five-dollar bill. He said the money parasite is an acarus and closely related to the spider family. Its appearance is by no means handsome. In shape it is oblong and flat, and has four clumsy legs and a sharp bill. It is never known to leave the paper on which it lives, and never becomes a parasite on the human body."

Mr. Francis B. Jones had his gold watch and chain and a cheque on the London and River Plate Bank for $185 gold stolen from his room in the Hotel de Paris, Calle Cangallo, the other night. Next day the thief presented the cheque at the bank, but got nervous while it was being passed through the books, and bolted.

"As dead as a door-nail," found in English texts over five hundred years old, comes from the wooden pin or nail used to secure the door of a hut, which by constant use would become very smooth, hard, dry, and 'dead.'

Dr. Webster, the well-known American dentist, will leave in the R.M.S. Magdalena on a trip to Europe. We hope it will prove of the pleasantest, and that we shall soon have the pleasure of welcoming him on his return.

There is depressing news from the maize-fields of Santa Fé. The Locusts are hard at work on them, and have already done great damage. This was to be expected. The "Extinction Committees" have been at work since November; but the only thing they have extinguished is the cash given to them to destroy the insects.

A thirsty soul swindled the well-known wine firm Calvet and Co. out of two dozen of their best Champagne, but was ass enough to postpone drinking it, and the police pounced on him and the tipple. When Champagne is within drinkable distance the man who hesitates is lost; and serve him jolly well right.

On Thursday night, in Montevideo, the police service of the city was rendered by a number of private citizens, as the regular force were all kept under arms in the Comisarias. This shows that our neighbours on the other side of the river are expecting something in the patriotic gunpowder line.

The modern Gauls seem inclined to take an extra National Holiday this year by making a fete day of the 22nd of September, the centenary of the proclamation of the First Republic in France.

There are many curious signs and business announcements to be found in London, of which a few are:—"Sick dogs medically attended by the week or month. Birds to board. Ladies' and gentlemen's feet and hands professionally treated by the job or season. Babies or children hired or exchanged. Round-shouldered persons made straight. False noses as good as new, and warranted to fit. Black eyes painted very neatly." In the extreme West we hear of a shanty which bears the sign, "Here's where you get a meal like your mother used to give you."

The intended Radical meeting to-day has been abandoned, so peaceable citizens can walk the streets as usual, without fear of being carried home on an unhinged door, through coming into accidental contact with the contents of a revolver. So best.

It appears by later telegrams that Lord Salisbury, in his place in the House of Lords, did say something about Egypt that is not very palatable to France, as the Paris papers, without exception, have another attack of Anglophobia, and are already in full cry on the subject, urging the French Government not to allow his lordship's observations to pass unchallenged.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Dunn on Young of the Cleary Company had his arm put out of joint in the wreck of the John Elder, and has not quite recovered yet.

An exchange says:—"The chloride of gold cure for dipsomania has recently attracted some attention in the United States; but a patient, who recently published an enthusiastic article about it in one of the reviews, died the other day in a fit at New York. An American paper says:—"It is absurd to suppose that a hypodermic injection of bichloride of gold, or any other substance, could accomplish such a change in a man's moral and mental nature as is necessitated by the cure of a confirmed inebriate; and the undeserved attention that has been paid to the matter illustrates the unscientific habits of thought, and the childish faith in the powers of 'medicine' which so widely prevail."

The Chilian Times announces that Capt. James E. Pepper, well-known in the River Plate, has been appoint

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to its EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Saturday, Feb. 13th, 1892.

A keen bearish blast swept over the gold market this morning and put down the price of the ounce from $60.90 to 59.60. The fall was sudden and very heavy; the supply of gold at the ring was very large and the gold operations on the black-board filled eight serried columns of chalk figures. It is supposed that the change for the better in politics is at the bottom of the heavy fall. The conciliation policy of Generals Mitre and Roca has been successful in the choice of Dr. L. Saenz Peña as presidential candidate, and the gold market appears to be jubilant over the fact.
Twenty-three thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at 60.80, fell steadily, and closed at 59.60, say 264 o/o premium. Over three thousand sovereigns were sold; the price opened at $18.80, rose to 18.85, and closed at 18.55, say 268 o/o premium.
Patriotic Bonds ruled very firm; they opened at 58 and closed hard at 58.70. A few hundred Constructor de Flores changed hands at 3. La Plata Cedulas were again very weak.
The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

It was said to-day on 'Change that Baron Hirsch had sold gold and thus helped to put down the premium. It was also said that a lot of political gold had been banged away to produce a bearish impression. But in all this we see an exaggerated importance attached to politics, whilst finances are entirely overlooked. As long as the country cannot find a Finance Minister with sufficient moral courage to put an end to the system of paper-issues and moratoribus, no prospects of improvement can be discerned on the financial horizon. Politics, in reality, are a secondary consideration; yet the whole market thinks that the financial future hinges on the political settlement. Granted that the new Presidential candidate will meet the support of all; granted that the transfer of power will take place in peace, but if the present absurd and injurious system of financing be not stopped we shall see the crisis grow day by day. The country wants a finance-minister of the right type or a president who is a sound economist.
Some agitation is rampant with regard to the new issue of fractionary notes by the Banco de la Nacion Argentina. It appears that the Bank has no right to issue such notes; in fact the issue is illegal. The issue of such notes is solely in the power of the Caja de Conversion and it is well to bear the fact in mind. In such matters the Government cannot be too cautious; and if the action of the Banco de la Nacion Argentina be illegal the abuse should be immediately stopped. The law of the nation authorizes an issue of 12 millions of fractionary currency, and a recent law stipulates that all issues of paper money must be under the direct and immediate supervision of the Caja de Conversion. The Banco de la Nacion Argentina has been usurping attributes of the Banco Nacional under the old law, but subsequent legislation has clipped the wings of the National Bank and does not authorize the Banco de la Nacion Argentina to patronize such paper issues. Very probably the whole affair is a mistake.
Just as the Caja de Conversion must call the Board of the Banco de la Nacion Argentina to order, it must pay some attention to the issue of Bonos by the La Plata Mortgage Bank, and more especially to the contemplated issue of "vales," "conformes," or "certificados" of the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres. In the latter case the "vales" are accepted not only by the Bank, by the Mortgage Bank, but also by the Provincial Government in payment of taxes. If all the provinces of the Republic follow this pernicious example we shall soon see chaos in the currency of the Republic. The National Government cannot be too particular in these matters, and the slightest indulgence may lead to a state of affairs that may take years to remedy. If the abuse be not stopped we shall soon see the country flooded with all kinds of provincial Bonos or Vales: the country needs a very stringent banking legislation to close the doors to these abuses. Santa Fe, Cordoba, and Buenos Ayres are banking culprits in this regard; the finance minister of the nation and the Caja de Conversion must study the merits of the question.
2,199 bags of wheat
5,947 do bran
249 packages of ore
2,211 bags of linseed
1,208 bags of barley
663 do blood manure
229 live sheep
102 live steers
15,179 frozen wethers
2,001 beeves
881 quarters do

According to telegrams from London, the Colonial wool sales progress with active demand and large attendance. We infer that there is no change in price.
Telegrams from Antwerp announce a great calm in the wheat market there.
Sauce Corto will soon boast of a flour-mill of more importance even than that of Pigué. The new mill will be inaugurated one of these days.
A league of land to the South East of lot No. 25, letter B, section IX of National lands, has been bought by Mr. Mariano Marmol for 10,600$m/n.
Messrs. Stiller and Mortlock have started a fine stationery shop in Calle San Martin No. 162. They undertake all kinds of printing-work, book-binding etc. We wish the new firm every success and have no doubt that it will meet with the full support of the market. Both partners are well-known and esteemed.
There is already an incipient panic in our wool markets, owing to the heavy storage of wool, the bad advices from Europe, low limits of the artistas, and last, not least, the heavy fall in gold. Affairs, however, threaten to become far more serious later on when the bulk of the wool must be thrown on a falling market. The week closes with a fresh fall of 80 cents per 10 kilos all round. Sellers find the greatest difficulty in getting rid of the article. Artistas are out of the market, as their limits of purchase on an estimate of washed wool are at present 50 centimes lower than the current prices of wool in this market; business under such circumstances is simply out of the question.

French wool buyers calculate that there is at present a stock of at least 10,000,000 kilos of wool in the Central and South Markets and in the "barracas;" some operators say that the figure is much nearer 15,000,000 kilos, but this we very much doubt. The agglomeration of wool, however, shows the utter snag-up in the market. Farmers and consignees are infatuated: they refuse to let go. They appear to forget that at least 250,000 bales of wool remain to be shipped this season and that there are very dim probabilities of any revival in prices in Europe. Meantime, we see that Australian farmers are far more reasonble since they bow to the fall in prices and sell out: here we hold fast to the wool, and once it must be moved off there will be a steady "degringolade," if not panic, in the market.

The arrivals of wool at the Central Produce Market from 1st October to 31st Dec. of last year exceed 18,000,000 kilos. The figures show the growing importance of that market. Consignees in the South market complain of the delays in unloading the waggons at the Southern Railway Station.

Contango was high to-day on gold; 50 to 60 cents was paid till next Saturday, one dollar for the end of the month and $2, $2.10, and $2.20 for end of March. Gold is in demand on time: it would appear that all the houses are anxious to secure gold. The pressure in the paper money market has also something to say in the matter.

The cheques of the Provincial Bank closed to-day at 44% discount; those of the National Bank at 27½% discount. Cheques of the English Bank of the River Plate were nominal.

Fourteen thousand ounces were sold this afternoon for Monday; the price opened at 59.80$, fell to 59.30, but closed at 59.70$, say ten cents higher than the closing rate of the first ring. Sovereigns fell to 18.45$ and closed at 18.50. Patriotic Bonds rose to 59.20. La Plata Cedulas were weak.

The Chairman of the Board of Management of the City Improvement Works has informed the Government that some immediate steps must be taken to improve the Water Supply in the suburb Belgrano. Amongst other suggestions, it is considered necessary that the owners of factories and of other industrial establishments in that district should purify the water they throw out by a special process recommended by the Municipal Chemical Department.

I consider that no estancia which has any stock worth giving medicines to ought to be without these medicines.

The GASEOUS FLUID is the very best colic medicine I have ever seen given to horses, and the RED DRENCH for any illness after foaling or calving or lambing is, I consider splendid.

Excepcional Remate de 2,000 Esplendidas Vacas Durham, mestizas con novillada y con 30 toros padres puros, procedentes del renombrado establecimiento "Miraflores," propiedad del Señor Don Exequiel Ramos Mejias. El remate tendra lugar en las inmediaciones de la estacion Julio Arditi (F. C. de la Magdalena.)

El Domingo 21 de Febrero

a la 1 de la tarde

Las vacas que ofrecemos en venta son especialisimas y pocas veces se presentan ocasiones como estas de hacerse de inmejorables planteles.

Estas haciendas proceden de un rodeo de vacas mestizas que formo a eleccion el Sr. Ramos Mejia y cuyos novillos se han vendido siempre a precios muy elevados, habiendose obtenido hasta 100 pesos cada uno.

Hace muchos años que estas vacas se han reproducido con toros puros de inmejorable sangre y anualmente se han hecho depuraciones y limpiezas, dejando solo lo muy bueno y sacando lo inferior para consumo o para venta.

Los 30 toros son puros por cruzamiento, pues tienen 50 años de mestizacion, siempre con inmejorables reproductores de las buenas cabañas de Inglaterra.

La venta será en lotes para planteles al gusto de los interesados.

Los que deseen ver las haciendas pued n dirijirec al mismo establecimiento cualquier dia.

Un tren exprreso saldra de la Estacion Central a las 10.25 a.m. llegando a su destino a las 12 20 a.m. y regresando una vez concluido el remate. Mas datos a nuestra casa Alsina 480 y 482.
